History

Cherevko K. E. Samurai Style Neutrality during the Period from 1941 to the Beginning of 1943.

The article goes into detail of Tokyo's stance on the neutrality pact signed in 1941 with the USSR. Japan's leadership has repeatedly discussed plans of war against the USSR resulting from the Tripartite Pact of Germany, Italy and Japan, which was negotiated in 1940. But that contradicted the obligations of article 2 of the aforementioned neutrality pact. Basing on the international law, the author considers such an ambivalent position as amounting to a de facto annulment of the treaty with Moscow.
